

MANNVILLE SLAYER WILL BE HUNG ON DECEMBER 15 AT FORT SASKATCHEWAN

Edmonton, Sept. 28.—Vernon Boohar was found guilty today of the murder of his mother, his brother and two hired men on his father's farm near Mannville on July 9.

He was immediately sentenced by Justice Simmons to hang on December 15 at Fort Saskatchewan jail. The jury reported its verdict at 12:05, after having retired at 10:25.

When asked if he had anything to say Boohar replied: "I am not guilty."

The trial followed at 5 p. m. Thursday after E. B. Cogswell, K. C., crown prosecutor, and N. McLean, counsel for Boohar, had addressed the jury. The jury was then locked up for the night.

Chief Justice Simmons started addressing the jury at 9:30 a. m. today and carefully reviewed the evidence.

At 10:15 a. m., his lordship having concluded his address, the jury retired.

"Have you anything you wish to say?" Chief Justice Simmons asked the accused, before imposing sentence.

"Only that I am not guilty," replied Boohar, his lips trembling and his throat muscles trembling so that it was difficult for him to speak.

Sentence of Death.

"I order that you be taken from this courtroom to Fort Saskatchewan jail where you will remain until December 15, when you will be taken and hanged by the neck until dead and may God have mercy on your soul," the chief justice solemnly decreed in the death-like silence that settled over the court room.

GJOA—TO AMUNDSEN

By John G. Jury
The Gjoa, the craft in which Captain Amundsen made the Northwest Passage, is now in Golden Gate Park, at the ocean beach.

O'Winged Winds of the North—
Winds from the world's white rim,
Out where the lamps of the stars
Hang low and their lights are dim.
Tell me—What of my Captain—
Fearless Viking of Storms—
What has become of him?

Once I was free as you
Upon the nights, that stun,
And felt the sharp, white teeth of ice,
The spears of sheet and hail,
And the clashing swords of the rain,
But against the dauntless will of one,
How could these prevail?

Now from my deck the sparrows fly,
My masts are bare as a stringless harp.
Except for you, O Winds,
Only the ghosts of the sea come nigh.

Again, I call to you!
Winds from the world's white rim,
Where is Amundsen—
Viking of Storms—
What has become of him?

WINTER HOUSING OF PULETS

When the pullets begin to show signs of sexual development by the reddening of the combs, it is high time that thought be given to their winter quarters.

The houses should have been all thoroughly cleaned and disinfected and thrown open for the sun and air. Leaking roofs and broken window panes should be attended to before the pullets are put into the houses.

When the pullets are put into winter quarters the houses should be kept wide open for as long a period as weather will permit, as

SHAW DEMANDS A THOROUGH PROBE INTO THE RECENT TRAGEDY AT PONOKA

Calgary, Sept. 28.—Jos. T. Shaw, leader of the Liberal party in Alberta, wants a thorough probe of the recent tragedy at the mental institution at Ponoka. He makes his position clear in a statement he has given out following a request from the Herald for his views.

You ask me for my views regarding the recent Ponoka disclosure. I can only say that in my opinion the conscience of the province has been shocked by the terrible tragedy at the mental hospital at Ponoka.

We have always assumed, indeed highly placed authorities have from time to time assured us that the hospital inmates, wards who are of the province, were receiving the tenderest and most highly skilled care.

It now appears that an old and respected pioneer, well known throughout the province, living in a well-to-do home, has been found dead in a room of the hospital, and a government institution and a timely witness of the tragedy was severely pummeled by six fellow attendants because he dared to disclose the facts. The six offenders were, according to report, and quite properly, charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm, conviction upon which offenders renders the person convicted liable to a penalty of three years' imprisonment. The Crown, however, complacently agreed to reduce the charge to one of common assault so that the magistrate was in a position to summarily dispose of the charges but could under the law only award a maximum sentence of $25 and costs or two months imprisonment with or without hard labor.

Rodvics engaged in a common law fight could hardly expect a kinder fate. One cannot help but wonder at the solicitude shown by the prosecution for this group of convicted attendants.

Faced with these facts Hon. George Headley, the Minister of Health, proposed that a visiting committee chosen by himself shall investigate the facts. This committee has been visiting for some years, without having done anything of moment so far as the public knows, the members are not specially qualified for this investigation work nor have they the statutory power to make such a probe as is patently necessary.

It is making this island suggestion fails to realize that the facts made public constitute a serious indictment and that only a genuine probe, fearlessly conducted, will restore the shattered confidence of the public in our Provincial Mental Hospital.

The last few years have been fruitful of many complaints as to the treatment of patients at the hospital. Formerly the assurances of officials have served to allay fears. Unless at once the whole system of treatment and care is thoroughly probed by competent authority and adequate remedies applied, such assurances will not be believed. Justice will not be done, nor can the province properly claim that it is sensitive to its plain duty.

MRS. FREDERICK ETHERINGTON

IS TOURING EASTERN PROVINCES IN INTEREST OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN FOUNDATION FUND

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 22. Mrs. Frederick Etherington, first vice-president of the National Council of Women of Canada, is now visiting the eastern provinces in the interests of the Foundation Fund effort which the Council will conduct throughout the Dominion beginning October 1st.

Mrs. Etherington is also convener of the Foundation Fund Committee, and before leaving on the eastern trip, she presided over a meeting in Kingston which was attended by presidents of all the member organizations in the Kingston Local Council of Women. Plans were made to raise Kingston's portion of the $200,000 fund sought by the National Council.

A meeting of the Montreal Local Council was held yesterday with the presidents of many of the city's organizations in attendance. Full cooperation with the National Council in the fund appeal was promised. Through the Foundation Fund the National Council expects to put its affairs upon a business basis. The fund will be invested by a board of trustees, to bring an annual return of $10,000.

It is hoped that the income will make it possible to establish and maintain a national headquarters. It will also be used to defray a portion of the expenses of delegates to national conventions and to continue the duties and publish the findings of the national standing committees.

Among the achievements of Dominion-wide scope which the National Council was influential in securing are: the Victorian Order of Nurses; supervised playgrounds; medical inspection, dental inspection, manual training and household science in the schools; the passage of the Mothers' Allowance Act; the securing of the minimum wage; guardianship of children; raising the age of consent to eighteen years; the employment of women police and judges in many towns and cities.

nothing is more conducive to fall colds than taking pullets off free range and confining them to a stuffy house. They should be fed heavily on green feed and sparingly on grain until they become accustomed to confinement. Keep them active by feeding the grain sparingly in a deep litter. A week to ten days after confinement a purgative of Epsom salts (about one-half pound to one pound to 100 birds) helps greatly to keep the birds in health. The change from summer conditions and rationing to winter confinement and heavy feeding should be made as gradual as possible.

COMPLETE HUDSON BAY RAIL-WAY TO FORT CHURCHILL
MUCH EARLIER THAN EX-
PECTED; OPEN PORT BY 1930

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1.—So rapid has been the work on the Hudson Bay Railway this season that the completion of the line to Fort Churchill, the terminus, will be accomplished much earlier than at first thought. It is also possible that all terminal facilities will be completed in time to permit shipments of freight through the new Canadian port by 1930.

This is the word brought here by Major Graham Bell, deputy minister of railways, who has just completed an inspection of the line in company with Hon. James Macleod, minister of trade and commerce. Rails will reach Fort Churchill by March or April of 1929, many months earlier than originally anticipated, said Major Bell.

Construction gangs are now within ninety miles of the terminus, stretching the lines of telegraph and telephone wire.

Work will be carried on as intensively in the coming winter months as in the summer.

Huge amplifiers have been installed in the Prussian Diet chamber in an attempt to discourage unstrained speech by outwitting the speakers. The battle of the loudspeakers is said to have quieted the din.

It is stated that one-half of the workers of the world, including men, women, boys and girls, are engaged in agriculture. Good! Now at last we know how the other half of the world lives.

HISTORICAL TRUTH

Before concluding its session in Sweden recently, the International Congress of Historians condemned the system of writing history in which national self-glory is of greater importance than a strictly true presentation of the facts.

National vanity is a thing of shreds and patches, and it hungers and thirsts for the stuff that makes it the more ridiculous. It has so long been confused with patriotism that it has been systematically instilled into the minds of the young, to whom the history of their country presents a story of proud achievement, supremely clever diplomatists, and high minded statesmen.

To feed this national vanity, many facts have been distorted, many have been suppressed in whole or in part, with the result that the picture imposed on the youthful mind is a caricature of the truth.

The perverted patriotism thus engendered by this system is quick to see the most in a foreigner's eye, while it is blissfully unconscious of the beam in its own eye. Furthermore, this shallow patriotism presents as treason all criticism of national policy and institutions which presume to shatter old traditions, or question the integrity of the historical heroes.

Patriotism that is worth the name will welcome the exposure of blunders, humiliations and shortcomings; the full and true knowledge of the past should help any sensible people to avoid repetition of the mistakes of its forefathers.

National vanity cuts a sorry figure at any time, but it becomes a pitiable object when the ignorance on which it rests has been exposed.

International relations would run smoother, and national life would be richer and stronger if all histories contained the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

THIS LIFE, AND THE NEXT

A year ago Sir Arthur Keith was chosen president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science and in his opening address he declared that, from his knowledge of the structure of the human body and brain, he was forced to the conclusion that survival of personality after death was impossible—in short, there was nothing to warrant the belief in the existence of the soul.

Sir Arthur's conclusions were supported and challenged by all sorts and conditions of men throughout the country, and the echoes of the heated debates have penetrated distant lands.

A few days ago, Sir William Bragg became president of the Association, and in his initial address vehemently contradicted the conclusions of his predecessor, declaring that science was not out to destroy man's soul, but to maintain the unity of body and soul in this life, and personal survival in some form in after existence.

While great scientists are irreconcilable, immortality will remain an open question till such time as new light is forthcoming. Meanwhile, life on this earth presents quite enough variety to give zest to existence and to engage the energies and constructive thought of mankind.

Of one thing we may rest assured, and that is, if a future life proves to be a reality, the best preparation that can be made for it is to carry on here with courage, decency and honesty; if there is no survival we shall have had the satisfaction of running our course without the loss of self-respect.

An immense amount of energy has been wasted in preparing for a future life, that might better have been employed in making this world a happier place to live in, and metaphysical speculations have, up-to-date, added nothing to our knowledge of the mysterious future.

TAKING THE SHOW HOME

Television, tested in the laboratory, has reproduced tiny images of actors on the stage. Still in its infancy, this new achievement was viewed on a small scale, showing the hands only. Soon it will show the entire stage, on a screen to suit the watcher. People with modest radio and television sets will have a small screen in the living room. The rich will have large, "life-size" performances.

Husband and wife will "go to a show" after dinner simply by turning a dial. They will see the actors, hear their voices, watch the curtain rise and fall.

What will that do to theatres, if people can see shows at home? According to present experience, it will make them more popular than ever. By diversifying people's tastes, it will increase the demand, not only for itself, but for the rest.

They said the "movies" would kill the legitimate stage. But the stage is more popular than ever. They said the radio would put an end to the phonograph. But phonograph sales were never so heavy. They said the phonograph would ruin the sheet music business. But sales of sheet music have multiplied several times.

Television will join the procession. It will be a new form of entertainment. But it will help to sell other forms, just as those other forms are now helping one another.

In entertainment, people may be surfeited by quantity. But they are always lured by variety.

MAKING WAR TOO TERRIBLE

The British, French, German and Russian governments, it is reported, are now experimenting with airplanes that will be both silent and invisible.

In time of war these machines will be able to wipe out great cities with poison gas in a few hours. With them, the massacre of an army could be accomplished in one or two days.

These latest scientific preparations for war are going to have one of two effects:

They are going to lead up to a conflict so devastating that half the world will be wiped out.

Or they are going to make the prospects of war so terrible that humanity will revolt at the very idea of war.

The French people rebelled when their sufferings became too great. The Russian people rebelled when their oppressions became intolerable.

Will the thoughts of a new war—too hideous and appalling to tolerate—in time provoke a general rebellion of the human race against international slaughter?

WHEAT POOL NEWS BULLETIN

During the month of August, 1928, a total of 3,851 contracts were received in head office. This number of contracts involved a total of 473,704 acres of wheat or an average for 27 working days during this period of 143 contracts and 16,445 acres per day. Since the issuing of the Second Series contract 19,934 new members have been added to the association.

Deliveries to Alberta Pool elevators reached a high water mark on September 24th, when over one million bushels of grain were reported. British Columbia wheat growers are joining the Alberta Wheat Pool. They find it much to their advantage to do so.

Leighton McCarthy, K. C., a Toronto lawyer and financier, said in a speech delivered in Calgary that the Wheat Pool was Canada's largest commercial undertaking, and remarked that western farmers appear to be realizing the advantages of close organization.

The six leading Pool elevators in the matter of handlings from the 1927 crop are: Vulcan, 433,945 bushels; Carmangay, 406,211 bushels; Warner, 376,280 bushels; Conda, 375,145 bushels; Provost, 373,276 bushels; Blindfloss, 330,804 bus.

By the end of the present year the total number of Alberta Pool elevators will be 307, or an addition of 147 houses during the year.

It always seems so inadequate to use the word "gnat" without a heavily adjective in front.

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF THIS COMMUNITY

Remember Then That:

The business of a town is its very life-blood.

The stores and business houses are not alone for the merchants.

Prosperous merchants will make the community prosper. The more buyers there are in a town, the greater "turn over" the merchants will have, and thus the more they will be able to reduce prices and increase the quality of the goods they sell.

Thus By Trading at Home

REGULAR MEETING OF MACLEOD TOWN COUNCIL

The Macleod Town Council gathered for the regular monthly meeting Monday night, Mayor J. W. McDonald being in the chair and all the members present. After the routine business was gone through W. O. Hoodless was appointed Deputy Mayor for the next three months.

Transfer of property and sale of houses constituted the principal business of the meeting. The transfer of title for lot 26 on the north side of 19th street was passed in the name of Mrs. Annie Walshe, this being one of the houses that was recently moved in from the outskirts of the town, and is now made fully modern. Two small houses on lot 12 south of 18th street east were sold to H. Little. Other applications for lots were discussed and granted on the usual conditions.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MISS ALBERTA MCCREA

On Monday evening a pleasant surprise party visited the home of Miss Alberta McCrea, a bride-to-be this week. The party consisted of members of St. Andrews' Church Choir and teaching staff of the Sunday school. Miss McCrea has been a faithful and devoted member of both these organizations for a number of years, and her colleagues took advantage of the happy occasion to show not only their appreciation of her services in the church, but also their love and esteem for her as a friend and companion and as one who had grown up in the church from infancy.

Mrs. M. Hill, representing the Sunday school, made the presentation, which consisted of a set of silver forks and spoons, and Miss F. McKenzie of the choir read the following address:

"Miss Alberta McCrea, Macleod. Dear Miss McCrea—In view of the auspicious event of your life, soon to be consummated, we, the members of St. Andrews' Church Choir and Teaching Staff of the Sunday School, desire to express to you our appreciation of your faithful services as a member of the choir and secretary of the Sunday School. These services have been so loyal and willingly rendered for a number of years; that the severance of your connection with these organizations will be a distinct loss to St. Andrews' congregation. We trust you will accept this gift, not for its intrinsic value, but as a token of our regard for you and as an expression of our good wishes for happiness, joy and every blessing in the new life you are about to enter. May it also be a reminder to you in the years to come of the pleasant hours and service rendered in Old St. Andrews' Church, Macleod."

Miss McCrea in a few words feelingly expressed her thanks for the lovely gift, and for the good wishes for her future happiness. A jolly evening was spent thereafter, refreshments being served, bringing the happy gathering to a close.

SIXTY-NINE BUSHEL YIELD OF No. 1 WHEAT AT MACLEOD

George Cahoon, in the Waterton school district, 15 miles south of Macleod, finished threshing last week a 12-acre field of wheat, on breaking, which totalled 831 bushels, or 69 bushels to the acre, and it will grade No. 1 as it is a perfect sample. This district is producing some wonderful yields, as Mr. Cahoon's neighbors, A. E. Skelding had 62 bushels on part of his crop and Chris. Hilliard had 67 bushels on some of his fields. Threshing is going ahead at full swing 12 hours a day all over the Macleod district, and reports state that yields on the whole are fairly good, but there is a considerable amount of frozen grain coming in from the north, east and west but there is no sign of any frost from the south of Macleod. Another 10 days or two weeks of this weather will see the bulk of the grain threshed in this district.

Thus by the unseen, yet very real, channels of wireless, weekly contacts of health and better citizenship by the Red Cross at every point of the compass in Alberta.

THE UNITED CHURCH SCHOOL RALLY SERVICE EVOKED MUCH INTEREST

The United Church School "Rally" Service on Sunday, September 30, was one long to be remembered in attendance, program and returns. The superintendent, Mr. Roger Hunt, with his complete staff had the full program well in hand and the selections taken by members of the different departments were almost perfect in performance.

The graduation exercises when Mrs. H. S. Bailey's class of nine from the Junior School were promoted to the Senior School was especially stirring. A prettily decorated gate had been placed in the midst of the rostrum and Mrs. Bailey, accompanying her class to the gate, bid them farewell and God speed while Mrs. Dr. Farnet, superintendent of the Junior School, presented each with a beautiful diploma most artistically decorated by Miss Kirk, one of the Junior workers and C. G. I. T. leaders. Miss Lizzie Gillespie, the teacher of the class in the Senior department, received the class as the members passed through the gate and welcomed them to the Senior department with the splendid cordiality that youth feels so appreciatively and responds to so whole heartedly.

The finest enthusiasm thrills all the workers in the school this year and now that the students have all returned to school the roll bids fair for a banner year in the United Sunday School. A kindly welcome awaits every student, and a delightful Christian fellowship is experienced by all the workers in their delightful task of religious education.

Quite a number of Glenwood people attended the funeral services over the remains of Mayor Mark Spencer held at the Cardston tabernacle on Sunday.

MOTHERS IN RADIO-LAND

No more is the woman on the farm the lonely solitary figure of days gone by. Today she is the happy possessor of a receiving set.

In Alberta, foremost among the many agencies which are engaged in broadcasting lectures, is the Red Cross Society, the pioneer organization in health instruction by air.

Beginning the sixth consecutive season of radio health addresses this month, the society has been very gratified to receive from all points of the compass letters of welcome to the Radio Lady, who is the official broadcaster for Red Cross in Alberta.

Each letter carries with it a wealth of human interest. One bride writes of the joy that is coming to her home—the promise of life—and asks for advice and reading material on the duties of motherhood. Such a letter gets a very special answer, for the Red Cross prides itself on the fact that it can provide the best in maternity literature.

Another letter reveals the sorrow of the home stricken by dangerous infectious disease, and with it a request for pamphlets on disinfection, etc.

Some correspondents, writing on behalf of the women's service societies which they represent, request the Red Cross to arrange health lectures and home-nursing classes.

The auction sale of the late R. Wilson's furniture, that was held last Saturday afternoon, was well attended and big prices were realized for the furniture and effects.

E. Erdman, well known farmer of Granum, was a business visitor to Macleod on Saturday last. Mr. Erdman reports good crops from his farm and surrounding farms.

Mary Ann, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skipper, Blood Reserve, died at the agency hospital on Wednesday of this week from tuberculosis of the stomach. Interment was made Thursday at the agency burying ground.

Tom Beaton of the Porcupine Hills district was in Macleod on Saturday last and reports excellent crop conditions on his farm. He expects to commence threshing on Monday with a thirty bushel crop at least. He reports slight damage from rust and root rot.

A large number of Macleod folks visited Calgary last week to see the wonder performance of England's premier comedian, George Robey, and they all claim it was one of the best programs ever produced in Canada, with a real laugh for every second.

Word has been received from Charlie Thomson, formerly of Granum and who located in the Peace River country, that he is doing fine and is mightily tickled with his location. Charlie claims the north country is the only place and according to him it is no longer "Go West, young man," but "Go North, follow, go North."

Geo. Sheffield's new garage and service station on the corner of 24th street and Second avenue will open for business on Saturday, October 6th. The building in which the new business will be housed is a substantial brick structure 32,000 feet and is built on modern lines and has all the appointments of an up-to-date garage—all service outside front; in the interior, offices, ladies' waiting rooms, repair shop and commodious heated storage. The repair department has been leased by "Hop" Evans, well known locally as a first class mechanic, and the shop will be equipped with all machinery necessary toward the satisfactory handling of auto repair work in general. Mr. Sheffield will cater to the auto-driving public with gasoline service, complete line of auto accessories, tires, tubes, oils and greases. The new concern is starting out under auspicious circumstances and will doubtless receive a fair share of the business in their line.
